9.3 What happens if You or someone on Your behalf declare false or incomplete information?

If You provide Us with incorrect or incomplete information, We may not provide coverage.

If You, or anyone acting on Your behalf, makes a claim which is in any way false, exaggerated or fraudulent or supports a claim with any false, exaggerated or fraudulent statements relating to the insurance risk or documents, You will lose all benefits and any Premiums You have paid for the insurance policy. We may also recover the cost of any successful claims We have settled under this insurance policy and later discovered to be fraudulent. We may record this on anti-fraud databases and may also notify other organisations.

9.4 What happens to Your claim if You have multiple insurances?

If You are entitled to compensation under another insurance policy, public scheme or obligation arising from a law or a regulation You should notify Us and We may decline Your claim. We will, however, cover You where You are eligible under this insurance policy for damage which is not covered by the other insurance policy, public scheme or legal obligation arising from a law or a regulation.

If We do provide coverage up front at Your request, You assign Your right to compensation under another insurance policy, public scheme or any legal obligation arising from a law or regulation to Us.

If You have more than one insurance that covers You for the same loss, You should only submit the claim to one Insurer and provide details of any other insurance to that insurer. They will then contact anyone else who would have insured the event for a contribution towards the costs.

9.5 Compensation claim against third parties / other insurers

In consideration for the payment of compensation and, up to its limit amount, We become beneficiaries of the rights and actions that You have or are entitled to against anyone liable for the claim. If, by Your act, We are no longer able to perform this action, We can be discharged of all or part of Our obligations towards You.

Where another person or legal entity is liable for anything covered by Your insurance policy We are entitled to request coverage directly from that other party or We may recover the costs We incurred
